FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ROGERS GROUP INC. ANNOUNCES DANIEL C. ROSE AS ASSISTANT GENERAL COUNSEL

Daniel C. Rose has joined the Legal Department of Rogers Group Inc. (RGI) as Assistant General Counsel. Dan brings with him a wealth of in-house experience along with an engineering background. He earned a bachelor's degree from Baldwin-Wallace College and a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering from Ohio State University. Dan received his law degree from Ohio State in May 1990.

Dan began his career working as a Product Design Engineer at Ford Motor Company and was a corporate attorney at the law firm of Arter & Hadden in Cleveland, Ohio, for four years after completing law school. Since then, he has held several corporate positions including, Vice President-Law, Assistant Secretary at Marconi Communications, Inc.; and Vice President-Law, Assistant Secretary at Oglebay Norton Company.

"We are very fortunate to have someone with Dan's experience on board," said RGI General Counsel Russ Oldfield. "He is well equipped to help Rogers Group successfully move into the future. We are pleased that he is on the team."

Celebrating its 100th year in business, Rogers Group Inc. employs over 1,500 people in five states and provides crushed stone, sand and gravel, asphalt, highway construction and concrete masonry.
